1. A passing siding 300 meters long is being built in the area of the Haenichen railroad station which is on the Weisswasser (O 54/A 74) - Wehrkirch (N 52/A 51) line. Only the excavation work was started.
  2. [redacted] a passing siding about 300 meters long is also being built at the Wolfshain railroad station on the Forst (O 52/A 77) - Weisswasser line.
  3. [redacted] 300 meters of the passing siding at the Haenichen railroad station was completed.
  4. The track construction gangs previously employed in Haenichen have been transferred to the Uszmannsdorf railroad station on the same line to construct a passing siding there. *
- * [redacted] Comment. The Forst-Weisswasser-Wehrkirch line is of importance as a connection between the two border crossing points of Forst and Horka/Wehrkirch. The Forst-Weisswasser section of this line has always been single track, but the second track of the Weisswasser-Wehrkirch section was dismantled. The construction of passing sidings will increase the carrying capacity of the line.
